

The CHEMICAL COMPLIANCE Company

Worldwide Chemical Registrations and Notifications

We Make Your Product Marketable

No Data, No Market

In many countries and regions, chemicals laws regulate the substances permitted and prohibited on the market. For example, REACH has been in effect in Europa since 2006. Since then, many countries – especially in Asia – have followed suit and approved similar laws. As a businessperson you must painstakingly determine which data and documents you need to go to market in specific countries. We would be happy to perform that work for you. We can also supply any missing data, create the required documents, and execute registrations and notifications – anywhere in the world.

CREATE MARKET ACCESS – Secure Marketability

Chemical inventories and laws, along with the related quantity limits, substance registrations and notifications, the required scope of data, and exception regulations vary considerably from country to country. We are familiar with the specifics of each country and can secure market access for your products by taking care of the required data and documents and perform registrations and notifications.

Within the EU:

Within the framework of EU REACH one of our services is to take on the role of the only representative (OR). We can then support your importers by providing an extended safety data sheet (eSDS) in each country's national language.

If desired, we perform registrations as the lead registrant. We create and update your registration dossiers and represent you at dossier and substance evaluations in the various working groups of the ECHA and national agencies.

Outside the EU:

If you want to distribute your product internationally, you must meet the requirements of chemicals laws in individual countries. The effort required here is considerable, as is the risk of being blocked from the market because of a lack of subject matter expertise. We are familiar with the laws in the individual countries (Turkey: KKDIK; South Korea: K-REACH; Russia: Eurasian REACH). To help you concentrate on your core business, we work step by step to determine what is required. We use our services to create access to the market and secure the marketability of your products. We work with local partners on site who perform all the tasks required by a branch office in that country.
